Friday 23rd September

Dear Parents/Carers,

Today in our Celebration Collective Worship we celebrated Freya (Voyagers) for the value of hope, Lawson (Discoverers) for the value of wisdom, Fynn (Explorers) for the value of hope and Chester (Shooting Stars) for the value of wisdom.

Congratulations to them all.

Once again, we have signed up to join the Trowbridge Lantern Festival on 18th November. Many of you will no doubt remember it was cancelled last year due to a storm sweeping in across the south west and concerns over lanterns being sent high into the sky on the strong winds. All being well, the weather will be kind. Voyagers will be joining the parade but everyone can come and see the lanterns.

Over the same weekend as the Lantern Festival, Trowbridge are asking families to get involved in the Window Wonderland. Further details can be found later in the newsletter but you need to design up via this link and put a display in your window. Locations are shared and people wander around Trowbridge and look at all the beautiful displays. It last took place during Covid but I missed it—I will make sure I don't this year!

ONE WEEK TO GO.....Mrs Brown and I hope that many of you will be able to join us for our Macmillan coffee afternoon on Friday 30th. Please come for a chat and a cake to help us support this incredible charity. If you are unable to join us but would like to donate, the QR code will take you to the Macmillan website to make a donation. This is a cause especially close to our school heart right now as Mrs Perrin is about to start treatment for breast cancer.

News from the classes via our School Parliamentarians:

Shooting Stars: This week we have been finding worms in the digging pit, we even found a furry caterpillar and read a book about it and drew pictures of it. Mrs Meehan gave us all a book to read, it did not have words but we loved the pictures, mine was about a visit to the beach. I am allowed to take my book home on Monday to show mum and dad. Rhiannon

Explorers: In geography, we have been learning what the seven continents are called. We also learnt about deserts and rivers. In English, we wrote sentences using adjectives to describe the bears from the book 'Five Bears'. In computing, we learnt how to use Sketchpad. The best part of the week was getting to climb on the new climbing frame! Luca and William

Discoverers: This week in Discoverers we have continued to learn about the discovery of Tutankhamun's tomb. We have learnt about Howard Carter and Lord Carnarvon and the events that led up to the findings. We pretended to be Howard Carter and wrote diary entries about the event. In maths, we have been learning to use number lines and finding ways to work out missing numbers. In English we are continuing with our story and looking at how the verb can tell us what tense is being used. Brie & Archie

Voyagers: In science we learnt about solids, liquids and gas. In DT we are making a playground! We had to design it first and now need to build it. We tried making soundtracks in music and we coded in computing. Thalia and Abigail

Best wishes,

Alex Blake-Thwaite

WHAT ARE THE RISKS?

Reddit describes itself as a social news website where users connect and share stories, opinions and support; debate issues; ask questions; and chat to people with similar interests. Discussion topics are organised into communities (known as subreddits) that are created, run and populated by users, who remain anonymous throughout. Free speech is encouraged, and users – or 'redditors' – can vote posts 'up' or 'down' so they get more (or less) attention. Reddit is free to join, although signing up to Reddit Premium unlocks an advert-free version of the platform.

MINIMAL MODERATION

As sharing opinions on Reddit is easy (and anonymous), offensive or age-inappropriate content is frequently posted. Moderation by admins and bots does occur, but can't cover every community – so Reddit relies on users voluntarily moderating these spaces. Subreddits marked NSFW (not safe for work) can contain anything from profanity to pornography, so are not suitable for under-18s.

HARASSMENT AND TROLLING

If someone on Reddit doesn't agree with your child's opinion, they may feel compelled to say so – in no uncertain terms. This could lead to a public bombardment of hurtful messages. Likewise, Reddit users are highly likely to encounter trolling (where someone posts a deliberately inflammatory comment to provoke a reaction) on the platform, which can be distressing.

FAKE NEWS

Absolutely anyone can post a story on Reddit, so sub-reddits are occasionally prone to bias, misinformation and opinions being repeated as if they are facts. Fake news articles often grab users' attention with catchy or controversial headlines, and Reddit is no exception. It's important that young people are able to identify fake news – and disregard it rather than sharing it.

GIFTING AND SPENDING

Users can gift awards to the authors of posts that they like (thereby encouraging their favourite redditors to keep contributing) by spending Reddit Coins. This virtual currency can be bought on demand (with real money) or received as part of the paid-for premium package. Users sending a gift can also leave an anonymous private message, a feature which has been abused by groomers.

'SUPPORTIVE' STRANGERS

By definition, Reddit users interact with strangers in public through their community – but also have the option to do so privately. Groomers could repeatedly up-vote a child's comments or respond encouragingly to their posts to win their trust. Once they've built a rapport, the predator then begins messaging the child in private to obtain personal details or try to lure them into meeting in person.

NEVER-ENDING NOTIFICATIONS

Reddit's default is for all notifications to be on. There are a total of 28 types of notification on the platform, ranging from chat messages and comments to updates and mentions of username. This would lead to a child's device being pinged almost constantly with alerts, frequently causing them to be distracted by incoming notifications rather than being present in the moment.

Advice for Parents & Carers

SORT THE SETTINGS

Reddit's user settings can help ensure that minors don't view adult material. Under the 'Feed' tab, users can switch the Adult Content toggle to 'off', and enable Safe Browsing Mode (this blurs out any explicit images). Also in settings, you can turn off all unnecessary notifications, to prevent your child being distracted by every post or comment on Reddit, allowing them some tech-free time.

ENCOURAGE CRITICAL THINKING

It can often be difficult to tell if something online is real or fake – particularly for young people. It's important to encourage your child to double-check with reputable sources if what they've read is genuine. Remind them to consider what motives might be in the message – and to watch out for scams. Chatting about this regularly helps to develop critical thinking skills and good online habits.

RISE ABOVE IT

If a person says something critical or offensive to your child on Reddit, it's natural that they'll want to respond. Explain to them, however, that it's exactly the reaction that trolls look for. Don't give them the satisfaction; instead, report the comment to Reddit Support for investigation. Blocking a user stops them from messaging or following your child on the platform.

AVOID PRIVATE MESSAGING

Through their Reddit profile, young people can control who's able to message them privately – with options including 'no-one' and 'accounts older than 30 days'. These controls help ensure potential groomers can't talk to your child in private, and that Reddit's admins and other users will be able to moderate and report anything they spot which causes them concern.
