

Lockdown Lit!

Child's Eye is excited to announce the arrival of the Lockdown Lit Prize for Children.

While at home on lockdown, put pen to paper and win prizes!

It is a simple, FREE, easy to enter competition open to all children. Entrants can write about anything they like – fantasy or fact. Any topic, any length (between 100 and 1,000 words), illustrated or not.

Winning entries will have the opportunity to see their work in a book !

For the chance to get your stories published, submit your entries by June 15th (or before – we are very excited to see your stories!)

Stories will be judged by a panel of children's writers and winners will be announced in July 2020.

Lockdown Lit winners will be published in an anthology and also appear on our website.

Prizes will be awarded in three age categories (up to 7; 8-12, 13+) and category winners and their schools will receive copies of the Lockdown Lit publication.

Please email or post your entries clearly marked as 'Lockdown Lit' and with your name, age, contact details and school to:
